EXECUTIVE MEETING MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The executive and finance committees of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival met at the Greenhill hotel last week, with the following present: J. E. Upton, president; W. H. Chappell, Miss M. Chardon, J. A. Kerr, W. Kerr, W. H. Moser, G. Pattinson, H. T. Halliwell and the secretary, Mrs. J. H. Farmer.

The interim financial report was submitted by Mr. Chappell, who attributed the increased attendance of children to the work of Mr. W. G. Moffatt as musical instructor in the Pass schools.

Votes of thanks were passed to the secretary in charge of ticket sales, the ushers, the ladies who assisted the secretary and adjudicator, and Mrs. C. Minuzie, of the Blairmore Greenhouse, for loan of flowers and ferns for the stage.

The annual meeting will be held on Monday, January the 12th, when the officers for 1937 will be elected.

SPECIAL RAILWAY FARES FOR XMAS AND NEW YEAR'S

Special reduced fare for Christmas and New Year's between all stations will be offered by the Canadian Pacific Railway, according to information given by Mr. G. A. Passmore, local agent.

Single fare and one quarter for the round trip for Christmas will apply from December 23 to 27, with return limit December 28th; while for New Year's similar tickets will be sold December 30 to January 3rd, good to leave destination until January 4th.

There will also be a special ticket, based on single fare and one-third, to cover both holidays, on sale from December 20th to January 1st, and limited to leave destination until January 10th, 1937.

These fares should prove attractive to travellers who are desirous of spending Christmas or New Year's with relatives or friends.

The Big Six Hockey League opened the season last night at the Red Deer arena, when Red Deer and Innisfail clashed.

MINE MANAGERS FORM BRANCH OF BRITISH BODY

The Colliery Managers' Association, which originated in Drumheller two months ago, has been accepted as an associate branch of the Colliery Managers' Association of Great Britain, according to a communication from the parent body which was read at a meeting of the provincial association last week.

N. Cranston, of Midland; Duncan McDonald, of East Coulee, and Allan Hamilton, mining engineer of Newcastle mine, were appointed as a committee to draw up by-laws for the newly formed branch, in addition to preparing a charter. The charter will carry the names of 29 managers of the Drumheller valley. In the meantime, all colliery managers in the province are to be communicated with, urging them to join up with the Alberta branch for the betterment in general of the coal mining industry.

I conceive that I am not overlooking the duty that rests on me to place in the forefront public interest when I declare that I am conscious that I can no longer discharge this heavy task with efficiency or with satisfaction to myself.

"I have accordingly this morning executed an instrument of abdication in the terms following:

"I, Edward VIII., of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, King and Emperor of India, do hereby declare my irrevocable determination to renounce the throne for myself and for my descendants and my desire that effect should be given to this instrument of abdication immediately."

"In token whereof I have hereunto set my hand this Tenth Day of December 1936, in the presence of the witnesses whose signatures are sub-scribed.

(Signed) EDWARD R.I.

"My execution of this instrument has been witnessed by my three brothers, their Royal Highnesses the Duke of York, the Duke of Gloucester and the Duke of Kent.

"I deeply appreciate the spirit which has actuated the appeals which have been made to me to take a different decision and I have before reaching my final determination most fully pondered over them.

"But my mind is made up. Moreover further delay cannot be most injurious to the peoples whom I have tried to serve as Prince of Wales and as King and whose future happiness and prosperity are the constant wish of my heart.

"I take my leave of them in the confident hope that the course which I have thought fit to follow is that which is best for the stability of the throne and empire and happiness of my people.

"I am deeply sensible of the consideration which they have always extended to me, both before and after my accession to the throne, and which I know they will extend in full measure to my successor.

"I am most anxious that there should be no delay of any kind in giving effect to the instrument which I have executed and that all necessary steps should be taken immediately to secure that my lawful successor

KING EDWARD ABDIATES

LONDON, Dec. 10.—King Edward's words, in renouncing the British throne, read in the House of Commons today by the Speaker, Captain Edward Algernon Fitztry, were:

"I have determined to renounce the throne."

"After long and anxious consideration I have determined to renounce the throne to which I succeeded on the death of my father and I am now communicating this, my final and irrevocable decision."

"Realizing as I do the gravity of this step, I can only hope that I shall have the understanding of my people in the decision I have taken and the reasons which have led me to take it."

"I will not enter now into my private feeling, but I would beg that it should be remembered that the burden which constantly rests upon the shoulders of a sovereign is so heavy that it can only be borne in circumstances different from those in which I now find myself.

"I conceive that I am not overlooking the duty that rests on me to place in the forefront public interest when I declare that I am conscious that I can no longer discharge this heavy task with efficiency or with satisfaction to myself.

"I have accordingly this morning executed an instrument of abdication in the terms following:

RELIEF CAMPS TO RE-OPEN IN CROWS' NEST PASS

During the week announcement was made from Edmonton that several relief camps were to be opened in the Crows' Nest Pass district to absorb some of the provincial unemployed. Work is to be undertaken on some sixty miles of highway east from Crows' Nest, and it is hoped that the standing camps at the South Fork bridge, east of Cowley, at Bellevue and at Crows' Nest Lake will be occupied for several months.

Instead of the former rate of 30 to 50 cents per day, board, clothing and shelter, the new rate offered is said to be 30 cents per hour, out of which will be deducted supplies, such as food and clothing.

A survey of the possibility of work is being made by Mr. W. A. R. Rees, of the relief branch, and the work will be carried out under the Dominion Provincial relief agreement.

Former LUNDBRECK MAN
TAKES OVER NEW BUSINESS

T. Jones, of Lundbreck, has taken over the Red Head service station at High River, formerly operated by E. A. Williamson. Mr. Jones has had considerable experience in the service station and garage business.

Mrs. W. J. Comstock, of Saskatchewan, died at Pincher Creek while paying a brief visit to relatives and friends there, enroute to winter in Spokane. Mrs. Comstock was in her 83rd year, while her surviving husband, who was with her on the trip, is 84. The remains were laid to rest at Pincher Creek on Tuesday.

Despite the severity of the weather, there was a fairly large attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Garrison on Saturday last. The remains were laid to rest in the Hillcrest cemetery, with Rev. John Wood officiating, assisted by Mr. W. Dutton. Besides son, Clinton and Elmer, and a daughter, Juanita, residing at Frank, she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Gardner, residing at Champion, Alberta. The late Mrs. Blanche Garrison was a native of Kingston, Ontario, and was in her seventy-fourth year.

Pat Lenihan, local Communist organizer, addressed a meeting at Pincher Creek last week, in which he outlined the policies of his party. He stressed the function of law and order, and drew a picture of the social system as he traced the laws from chattel slavery, through feudalism, and lastly capitalism, and challenged anyone to give an example where our system had been changed without a struggle. "Communism," he said, "is built and standing on a rock of science."

Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, doughty warrior of Britain's political bat-ground, is reported ready to form a new government should the Baldwin cabinet resign in the face of King Edward's determination to marry his American friend. He attacked the government on Saturday for not consulting parliament, and challenged its right to advise the sovereign to abdicate. The brilliant Churchill considered it absolutely imperative that the King be kept on the throne. Formation of a Churchill-led cabinet in the face of Baldwin's resignation would in all likelihood force a general election, with the main issue the King's right to marry whom he chooses.

my brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York, should ascend to the throne."

The document was signed "Edward R.I."

Immediately announcement was made that H.R.H. The Duke of York had become His Majesty King George VI, while his daughter, Princess Elizabeth, becomes heir apparent.

The many Pass friends of F. J. Mead, former superintendent in charge of "C" division of the R.C.M.P. at Montreal, will be pleased to learn of his promotion to the rank of acting assistant commissioner.

Mead was at one time stationed in Blairmore as a constable and as corporal for a number of years till raised to the rank of inspector in Lethbridge in 1928. Mrs. Mead was formerly Miss Niven, daughter of the late Robert Niven, of Frank.

Dr. E. W. DeLong, for some time assistant to Dr. Borde in Coleman, and who practised medicine for a number of years in Red Deer, died at Pasadena, California, last week, following a long illness. He had also practised at Calgary, Vancouver and Wetaskiwin. He is survived by his wife and one son, Albert, both residing at Hollywood.

John Joseph Moore, father of Sam Moore, of Coleman, and Albert Moore, of Cowley, passed away at Creston on November the 30th, in his eighty-fifth year. Other surviving members of the family are two daughters, Mrs. Win. White, of Coleman, and Mrs. Bevick, of Michel; and three sons at Creston, James, John and Matthew. The remains were laid to rest at Creston with the five sons and a grandson acting at pallbearers.

Announcement by the Consolidated that they would pay a bonus of $50.00 and $35.00 to married and single men respectively this Christmas was made during the past week. As has been the habit, turkeys will also be distributed to married employees and an order on the company store to single men. The bonus is double the size of last year, and the announcement brought forth a great deal of satisfaction.—Kimberley Courier.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Mr. Justice Wilfrid Mercier of the Quebec superior court died at his home in Montreal after a brief illness, aged 76.

F. C. Blair, director of immigration, has been appointed director of the soldier settlement board, Hon. T. A. Crerar, minister of mines and resources, announced.

Five flying boats for the Royal Canadian Air Force have been contracted for by the national defence department, it was announced. These will be built in Canada at a collective price of more than $750,000.

All ranks and ratings of H.M.C.S. Saguenay which escorted the Vimy pilgrim ships to France last July are being presented with the Vimy pilgrimage medal by the Canadian Legion.

Augustus (Gus) Gumerich, President Roosevelt's personal bodyguard, died of a heart attack while dancing in a Buenos Aires restaurant. He had been with the president since 1923.

Imminent settlement of the Japanese-Australian trade dispute was announced in the house of representatives by Sir Henry Gullett, minister of trade. Sir Henry stated the basis of settlement would be quotas and lower quides.

Proposals are being discussed at Canberra, Australia, for establishment of a systematic training of the air to provide systematic training of a regular supply of pilots for internal air lines and as reserves for air defence forces.

A memorial to the late General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian corps during the latter stages of the Great War, was unveiled recently over his grave in Montreal. The cross of sacrifice is incorporated in the memorial.

The flow of dollars into United States farmers' pockets from sale of their products was reported by the agriculture department to have mounted to $883,000,000 in October, well above both the September total of $732,000,000 and the $802,000,000 figure for October, 1935.

The Speech Translator

Solves Language Problems At League Of Nations Meetings

The "Speech Translator" has helped solve language problems at the League of Nations meetings. For instance, when the Emperor Halle Selassie made his address at Geneva he spoke in Amharic. Probably nobody except a few Ethiopians understood the language, yet the delegates followed the Emperor's speech almost simultaneously. Wires connected with a microphone in front of the speaker carry his voice to expert translators behind the scenes, each of whom can translate the language being used into a second language. This is done by means of earphones which are connected with earphones on the desks of the delegates, who have merely to turn a knob to whichever language they want to hear—New York Times.

A Mutual Mistake

The readiness of Irish wit is exemplified in the story about some passengers traveling from Liverpool to London. One missed his handkerchief—a colorful, expensive affair—and bluntly accused his neighbor, an Irishman, of taking it.

Rising, the man found he had been sitting on the handkerchief. A third passenger suggested that the accuser apologize. But the Irishman said:

"Oh, there is no occasion for an apology. There was a mutual mistake. He took me for a thief and I took him for a gentleman."

Someone wants to know what makes so many golfers bad-tempered, perhaps it's golf.

Approximately 4,150,000 American veterans of the World War are still living.

Canadian Flour In Britain

Seventy Per Cent. Of British Flour Now Coming From Canada

The Canadian wheat board has opened its advertising campaign to maintain the existing high content of Canadian flour in British bread.

Due to a combination of circumstances 70 per cent. of British flour now coming from Canada. This is the highest percentage ever achieved in the wheat board's campaign designed to educate the British consumers on the supreme quality of the prairie product.

Increasing use of Canadian flour during the past year has been accompanied by a marked improvement in the quality of the British loaf and this point is being stressed in the wheat board's campaign.

Canada is being taken not to discriminate between the grain trades and the millers. The high quality of Canadian flour, whether milled in the United Kingdom or in Canada is being emphasized. George Molvor, assistant chief commissioner of the wheat board, is supervising the inauguration of the campaign which is being carried on under the direction of R. V. Buddle, the board's representative in London.

No Ground For Criticism

Commercial Side Of Canada's Air Service Second To None

Whatever criticism may be levelled against Canada for lack of an effective military air force, there is no ground for criticism of the commercial side. Colonel George A. Drew, who knows a great deal about these things, is authority for the statement that in 1935 Canadian airplanes carried a good deal more freight and express package goods than those of six of the leading countries together. The amount of freight and express transferred by Canadian planes in 1935, 13,224 tons, compared with 2,120 tons carried in the United Kingdom, 2,068 tons in Germany, 1,469 tons in France, 1,053 tons in Italy, 1,110 tons in Holland and 2,460 tons in the United States.

Primarily this is due to the remarkable extent to which the transport of machinery and supplies are conveyed to the mining areas in Quebec, Northern Ontario and the North-West areas. It is unfortunate that so many of the mines are in remote territories, where snow and ice form early in the season, and stay late, and where road-making would be an expensive and difficult proposition, being outside the range of economic practicality at present.

The planes are good, strong and reliable, but the pilots are simple men, so as to deserve them. They are skillful, Canada may not have any of the super-speed planes of the British Royal Air Force, but if a time should arrive when we need to use planes for defence purposes, it should not need much work to transform the northern airways machines into military planes, with the exact type of pilots ready on the spot.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A Pocket-Sized Car

Looks Like Toy But Is Economical And Easy To Handle

A pocket-sized English roadster appeals to women, it is said, because of its size, economy and easy road handling. It weighs 200 pounds less than the average car, which makes a difference in steering strain. It could almost be wheeled before the Christmas tree as a surprise gift, it looks so much like a toy. This toy-like size also makes for easy parking. A gallon of gas is enough fuel for 50 miles, and an oil purifying unit makes it necessary to change the oil only twice a year. Any lone woman with lots of ground to cover might be enchanted. The line includes roadster, touring car and sedan.—New York Times.

Unemployment Commission

Miss Charlotte Whilton To Make A Special Investigation

Arthur Purvis, chairman of the national employment commission, announced that the commission had obtained, through co-operation of the Canadian Welfare Council, service of Miss Charlotte Whilton, the counsellor to the unemployed director, Miss Whilton, whose services will be temporary. Mr. Purvis said, will make a special investigation into phases of unemployment relief problems which relate to co-ordination of government and voluntary agencies for relief and social services.

Originated During World War

The word "cootie" originated during the World War when a soldier holding one of the vermin up to a doughboy, exclaimed, "Ecoutez!" which is the French equivalent for our "Say, listen!". But the doughboy thought he said "a cootie," and that's what it was called from then on.

"We should be careful what we say," said the careful friend.

"Of course," said Miss Cayenne "although it isn't so much what you say that makes trouble as what somebody says you said."

Fight Political Corruption

Women Of Arizona To Take Matters In Their Own Hands

Five hundred women vigilantes—asked no odds and giving none"—sought incorporation at Phoenix, Ariz., to wage secret but relentless warfare against corrupt government officials.

In filing articles of incorporation the "Women's Investigation Committee of 500" disclosed it was been secretly operating for some time and our influence already has been felt." Several men have called up to ask what we are going to do to them," said Alice M. Birdsall, Phoenix attorney and one of three directors of the committee. Only the directors will be known publicly. The others will work in secret.

"Neglect of duty and corruption in public officials and their employees, as well as of all matters tending to cause corruption in the body politic, or which encourage vice or crime," will be investigated and the findings brought to light, said the articles of incorporation filed with the state corporation commission.

Must Have Permission

American Diplomats Have To Obtain Approval Of U.S. Officials Before Marrying Foreigners

An American diplomat who falls in love with a foreigner henceforth will have to obtain the permission of the woman of his choice and once to the United States secretary of state.

If the secretary approves he will be free to marry, but if he fails to ask the secretary's permission before marrying he will face dismissal. Asserting 122 foreign service career officers, 18 per cent. of the total, were married to aliens, the state department made public an order signed by President Roosevelt forbidding such unions in the future unless the secretary approved.

The order was accompanied by a circular instruction to all consular and diplomatic officers, stating a recent checkup of such international marriages "reveals a state of affairs that cannot be regarded with approbation."

Liner Definitely Located

Moving Pictures Will Show Salvaging Of Liner Lusitania

Underwater motion pictures of the salvaging of the liner Lusitania will be made when work is resumed next May, according to Thomas Whiteley of the Argonaut Salvage Corporation.

Whitley arrived in New York on the Deutschland after spending four years abroad. He said the Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine in 1915, has definitely been located in 310 feet of water off the Irish coast.

Another Puzzle For Doctors

Four-Year-Old Boy Unable To Stop Talking

Little Emmet Wilson, Memphis, Tennessee, can't stop talking.

Doctors who examine him are puzzled, for Emmet—four-year-old son of Mrs. May Wilson of Munford, Tenn.—has pratived day and night since he was taken to a hospital at Memphis some time ago.

The child, once a sturdy youngster, weighs less than 21 pounds. Slowly his strength has ebbed.

Known How To Buy

The new customer walked into the store. "How many chickens have you got to-day?"

"Oh, about six, ma'am."

"Tough or tender?"

"Some are tough, and some tender!"

"Well, I keep boarders. Pick out three of the toughest, please."

To this unusual request, the delighted grocer complied at once, saying, "Please, ma'am, these here are the tough ones!"

Whereupon, the customer coolly laid her hand on the others and said, "I'll take these, please."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 13

JOHN'S VISION ON PATMOS

Golden text: Fear not; I am the first and the last, and the Living one. Revelation 1:17, 18.

Devotional reading: I. Corinthians 15:35-44.

Explanations And Comments

A Portrait of the Christ, verses 9-20. John's vision of the glorification and kingdom and patience which are in Jesus (patience which Jesus brings, Moffat) was in the last days of Christ. John saw the Son of God and the testimony of Jesus (for adhering to God's word and the testimony of Jesus, Moffat). John was banished to Patmos because of his adherence to the word of God and his witnessing for Christ.

I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day. This was the first day of the week; it was so called in memory of Christ's resurrection. John was meditating upon Christ and divine things, which was open and receptive for divine things.

And I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet saying (apostle, Ephesians 1:12). What a sweet sound (your vision), wrote a book and send it to the seven churches.

Turning toward the voice that spoke, he saw seven golden candlesticks which stood before the seven churches, and which was writing in the temple may have suggested the seven-branched candlestick in the temple, or the seven seals of the scroll which was one who resembled a human being, with a long robe, and a belt of gold round the breast (Moffat's translation). The glorified Christ was arrayed in the short, seamless tunic of a Galilean minister, as in the days of his ministry, but in the long robe of a High Priest, as in the days of Jesus. And his hair and his were white as wool, white wool as snow; as white were also his robes. When he spake, his voice of righteousness and wisdom of Christ is the only perfect Man. And his eyes were as a flame of fire: compare Dan. 7:9-10. And his feet like unto burnished brass, if he went into a furnace. His feet are hard and hot, they search and shrieve into nothingness all obstacles and difficulties, and voices sounded like many waves (Moffat's translation). "The world is filled with the reverberations of what he says."

And he had in his right hand seven stars, the seven stars were the seven churches, and since seven stands for completeness, the symbol remains most appropriate to the character of the world in his care. Out of his mouth proceeded a sharp, two-edged sword. His message in two-edged it acts in every direction, cutting down from its keenness. And his face shines like the sun in full strength (Moffat's translation).

And I fell as one dead. Compare the effect of their vision upon Daniel and Ezekiel: Dan. 8:17; 10:19; Ezek. 1:28. When I fell as one dead, he held me by the hand, lifted me up, and I walked and talked in Galilee, he had not been so overpowered by his presence. But John the exile on Patmos when he beheld Christ in the full splendor of his majesty and power, and looked as the ever living Christ working in history, fell amazed and speechless before him. But Christ did not wait for me to rise, he inspired me. He walked and talked in Galilee, as he had said to him the Sea of Galilee, "I am the way, the truth, and the life;" he continued, "and the Living one; and I was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore, and I have the keys of death and of Hades." By "Hades" is understood the world of the dead, and no distinction is made between it and death.

CHANGED HER SHOES FIVE TIMES A DAY

Suffered for 20 Years with Rheumatism

Try and picture the life this woman led for twenty years—changing her shoes several times a day in vain endeavor to attain some relief from the rheumatic pains that were constantly troubling her. Then imagine what she found when the Kruschen Salts were driving away the rheumatism. This is what she writes:

"I have been using Kruschen Salts for 20 years. I have suffered from rheumatism ever since I had suffered with my feet, sometimes changing my shoes five times a day, and frequently a sitting while any of the parts was a sitting. Now I wear the same pair of shoes all day with comfort. I cannot speak too highly of Kruschen Salts. Only those who have been suffering from rheumatism for years can realize what it is to be free." (Mrs. E.A. King)

It is deposits of excess uric acid, lying within the joints, which are frequently the cause of rheumatism. Kruschen Salts contain two ingredients—sodium and potassium—which are effective solvents of uric acid. Picture WORTH '$2 FREE

A handsome gravure photograph of H.M. King Edward VIII is waiting for you to your druggist's—a picture every home will proudly frame. Free with the purchase of a bottle of Kruschen Salts. Supply limited—get yours now.

The City Of Madrid

Although Spanish Capital Is Not Very Important

The London correspondent of the Ottawa Journal says although Madrid is the Spanish capital, it lacks the ecclesiastical prestige of Toledo and the commercial importance of Barcelona. Its high buildings above narrow streets make it rather a gloomy city, but it has many splendid palaces, flowerings courtyards, and practically no suburbs. Its climate has been described as "three months in an icehouse and nine in a furnace."

Spanish archaeologists claim great antiquity for Madrid, but its first mention is in an Arab chronicle no more than a century before our Norman Conquest. In 1086, Alfonso VI captured it from the Moors. In 1085, Henry V used it as a hunting seat, and though Charles V liked its keen air, it was not until 1560, two years after Queen Elizabeth had been crowned in centuries-old London, that Philip II of Armada fame made Madrid his capital and only court.

So the romance of Old Madrid is really a legend, and, as ancient European cities go, it is almost a parvenu.

Back Carburetor Invention

Toronto Mining Man Said To Be Behind Carburetor Developed In Winnipeg

The Toronto Star in a copyright story said Jack Hammett, wealthy Toronto mining man, will back a carburetor invention of Charles Pogue of Winnipeg. The man, said, claims his carburetor will require only one gallon of gasoline for 200 miles a motor car travels. Tests have been made, the paper added, with a car at Hammett's home at nearby Oakville, while Pogue has been working quietly at a hidden Toronto laboratory to perfect his invention.

Pogue, 28-year-old Winnipeg man, is said to have worked 18 years on his invention at Winnipeg and to have taken out a basic patent.

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with a warm, clean cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by heat body, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages. This cooling, antiseptic—and-pain-and-lostens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

would take her mind off herself and away from her own thoughts for a little time.

She dropped into the nearest drug store—they said you could always discover what you wanted in a drug store, didn't they?—from postage stamp to information. She asked a man behind the grill about the shows in the town. He laughed.

"Not much choice, I'm afraid," he told her. "Just the usual—all the movie shows that are whashed on the heat communities because the powers think the best communities ought to see them . . ." He glanced up at her and smiled. "But say, listen! we've been having some of the finest actors in the business showing around here all summer—season not quite over yet . . . They play in barns and all that, you know. There's one not far from here where they're giving a swell repertoire—good shows . . ."

It seemed to Starr at once, she had some questions to ask him. After a hired car let her out before one of the remodeled barns where the "finest actors" held forth. Her eyes widened in pleased surprise when she saw the play that was being revived. "David Garrick!" She had only a faint memory of it; had seen it once as a child with her father. She did remember how enthusiastic he had been. He had told her he had first seen the play when the great Richard Mansfield had starred in it.

Starr smiled wanly. This would not be like seeing Richard Mansfield, but she was drawn. Somehow it felt as if she were a child again and going to the theater with her father. How eager she had been eager for life! How little she had known that life would so soon be over—before it had even begun!

She did not mind that she was going to the theatre alone. She wanted to be alone. Or was that odd? Starr wanted to sing for them—something out of her homeland of Egypt. That was getting to be one of the best publicity selling points.

Starr wanted to be alone and wait to be found. That was because of the dignity of "Play-Girl." Always willing to oblige; always looking for encomiums for a little known talent.

Nobody among them knew how Starr wanted to sing this night, though, as she made her way to the orchestra stand, looked over the instruments, and decided: that she would use only drums for her accompaniment, and a touch of the oboe that could simulate a desert pipe. She wanted to sing one song—hoping that—Michael Fairbourne, somewhere in his subconsciousness, would understand. If not tonight, then sometime. It was to be a farewell song that should come out of her heart.

The lights dimmed as "Play-Girl" took up the sticks for the instruments. The odd music, her voice after the first song of the freed negroes of Toussaint that is part of the desert, known no place else. The lit of her voice tried to carry her message to one man:

"The gazelle dies in the water, The fal die in the air. But the die in the dunes of the desert sand. For my love that is deep and sad . . ."

Many times that night Starr was almost within speaking distance of Michael when the applause after her song had whirled her off her feet and she was back among the dancers. Always Stephane was in the way. Stephane was hovering around, hanging to Michael's arm, more excitedly possessive than Starr had ever seen her, her arm wound through her hair: It was the only way . . .

Never in her life had Starr Ellison craved gaiety in great guises as she did on the night she went to Lance Marlowe's party at the swanky Sea Beach Casino. She had a feeling that it was to be an evening of great potentialities in her own life, which it was to be. There were many who attended the exclusive affair that evening who were not soon to forget the party. Certainly the events which transpired were startling enough to the point of sensationalism.

It was a heavenly night for a party and for late September, Starr thought as the car purred along the Long Island road to the Casino. Blazing and sweet with the perfume of Summer in the air. There was a moon, too—a moon seemed always to have so much to do with the affairs of Starr Ellison—and it was doing marvelous things to the sound that was glimpsed at intervals, magic things that could have meant so much. And did not it seem to be so perfect if—The same old "if." She refused to consider it any longer. Her thoughts for this night must be on a course she had deliberately planned. What would be the outcome?

Starr made her usual sensation when she entered the Casino on the arm of Lance Marlowe, the sensation to which she had become accustomed. She was wearing her favorite, clinging black velvet this night, a sheath-like thing with dazzling, glittering, sophisticated shoulder straps, with that coal black of the frock accentuated the canined creases of her thin face. The woman was long, quiet silver earrings that might have been an heirloom from some Eastern princess of the blood.

Lance whispered to her as he led her into the room:

"You're marvelous! You always are. But you should not be wearing ornaments without gems. You're born for them. I know the kind you need. Fire opals—they're perfect for you who are all fire and ice."

She gave him a long-eyed glance of thanks—a Starr Ellison glance that could mean so much, or nothing.

A change from other occasions, Starr arrived early at this party, perhaps as was fitting as the particular guest the host chose to escort. She had been dancing some time when Michael came in. She had not seen him when he came in.

He was with Stephane, and even before their eyes met, Starr saw that their painful interview of the night before and her running away from him this morning had added taut lines to his face. He did not appear to be wanting to be with Stephane, but she was obviously claiming him and when his glance did first meet Starr's there was an unspoken child in his eyes. Not that he was angry, exactly, because he probably understood why he had not found Starr at home. She had so plainly told him that she would not give him her answer till this night.

He got a chance only in passing to remark:

"Pretty dumb to try running away from me again. You can't get away with it, sweetheart."

And Starr, in a quick whisper: "I say you I wouldn't give you my answer until tonight."

Then she was gone, dancing with the rest of the men, all eager for a cut-in. The party was getting more lively every minute. Soon—as Starr knew—it would reach a climactic point. That was always the way with Lance Marlowe's parties.

Before it reached that point it was inevitable that somebody should insist that "Play-Girl" sing for them—something out of her homeland of Egypt. That was getting to be one of the best publicity selling points.

Starr wanted to be alone and wait to be found. That was because of the real David.

Michael was waiting for his answer. Well—he would have it. She could not give it to him in words.

Another scene like that on the balcony at the Mayfair last night would be too agonizing.

Cold-bloodedly, Starr Ellison, with an aching heart, had planned another way.

Michael's protective as if to hold him against outside claimants. But Michael's eye, it was equally obvious to see, were all for the ivory-white britches, with the age-old eyes of the priestesses of Egypt, who was often in the arms of Lance Marlowe.

Michael, sauntering by the exquisitely little bar with Stephane saw the two at the end of a dance during which Stephane had given him a opportunity to kiss her. Michael's lance was just filling to him. With a challenging glance into Lance's eyes, Starr tipped her glass and drank it. She drank that, knowing she would need it for courage what was to come.

She said crisply: "Fill it up again, Lance!"

She caught Michael's glance, then as if she had not before known he was watching her. He shook his head disapprovingly. Michael did not like to see women drinking. He was funny that way—old-fashioned.

(Neither had the girl David Garrick loved like drinking.)

Michael—Starr could remember every word he had ever said on the subject. He thought it was quite all right for a girl or boy dauntly to a cocktail or a champagne glass, to have a dip now and then that was intriguing—but steady drinking was degrading. Getting tight was something no girl in her right sense ever did.

Starr's eyes met Michael's full glance as she deliberately lifted the second glass of champagne to her lips and drained it. No one who saw her could possibly have guessed at the significance of her action.

It was not suddenly that Starr had seen her way to get herself out of a terrible tangle. She had seen it that afternoon when a rather nondescript cast of actors had given a performance of "David Garrick" in a bare theatre near Stamford. She had only been biding her time for the opportunity for her own amateur performance which would, for her, be more tragic than the soul hurts of the real David.

Michael was waiting for his answer. Well—he would have it. She could not give it to him in words. Another scene like that on the balcony at the Mayfair last night would be too agonizing.

Cold-bloodedly, Starr Ellison, with an aching heart, had planned another way.

Horticulturist At Last Realizes Dream Of Flower Lovers

The thornless rose, dream of flower lovers for centuries, has been developed at Attica, New York, from a single chance plant that "just happened to grow that way," an Attica horticulturist, Edward C. Stroh, said.

After working for years to develop a thornless rose, he said he came upon a single plant free from thorns three years ago.

"It just happened to grow that way," he said. "We had been trying for years to get a rose with fewer thorns. From the single plant we developed three more the first year. Last year we grew 50 and this summer 3,000."

The thornless rose is a large double flower.

Too Great A Strain

Chicago Aldermen Not Equal To Using Dial Telephones

The city council of Chicago was two years fight to abolish dial telephones in the city of Chicago. It was a great battle fought as only Chicago can fight, and Chicago may not be worse than other cities in cities. These dial telephones involved too great a strain on the mental capacity of aldermen. Too much mental arithmetic was needed to dial the numbers there. This caused a mental anguish that brought a strain on the elect. The Chicago city council's efficiency was insufficient to handle dial telephones. They were trained to other things. Brandon Sun.

Mechanized Army

Canadian Militia To Be Reorganized On New Lines

Mechanization and a substantial development of the technical arm are outstanding features of the reorganized Canadian militia whose general composition is now made available.

Unit peace establishments are not greatly varied so far personnel is concerned. But equipment has been completely changed. New formations have been introduced, chief among which is the new style "machine gun battalion."

Horses appear doomed to extinction so far as the infantry and artillery are concerned, their places taken by motorcycles and armored cars of

An infantry rifle battalion (peace establishment), henceforth will consist of 35 officers, seven warrant officers (class one and two), 32 staff sergeants and sergeants and 312 other ranks. These are distributed among a battalion headquarters, one headquarters and four rifle companies. Each company consists of four platoons, with two light machine guns per platoon except in the headquarters company which will have two light machine guns and two trench mortars.

Other respects the old infantry stand-by continue. The bandmen will be still required to act as stretcher-bearers.

The infantry machine gun battalion is completely mechanized under the new system. It consists of one platoon for a battalion headquarters, one headquarters company, one scout, two machine gun and one anti-tank companies. All ranks, excluding attached personnel, number 472.

Twenty-four armored machine gun carriers, 24 general service trucks, eight 30-cwt. lorries, 16 protected scouts, 29 motorcycles and nine other cars go to make up the equipment of such a unit.

Trouble brings the hoar, the world has its share,

Go bury thy sorrow, the world with care,

If trouble accomplished, others are best;

Go, give them the sunshine and tell God the rest.

Trouble brings the hoar, if we will accept it, bring the hoar, patience, wisdom and sympathy. If we reject that, then we find in our hands the other gifts, cowardice, weakness and despair. If your trouble seems to have it in no other possibility of good, at least set yourself to bear it like a man. Let none of its weight come on other shoulders. Try to carry it so no one shall ever see it. Even though your heart be sad within, let cheer go out from you to others. Meet them with a kindly presence, considerate words, and helpful acts.

A Flexible Language

American Educationists Would Go To England To Learn English

Teaching of a "horse sense" language, streamlined for the times, was advocated by educationists seeking ways to end the childhood "nightmare" of formal grammar.

In fact, the words "grammar school" would lose their meaning under the proposal of Prof. Robert C. Pooley of the University of Wisconsin, who urged teaching of formal grammar to be left in high school.

Dr. Walter Barnes of New York University charged grammarians set up rules which were useless outside a classroom. He foresees acceptance of a language flexible as one's dress. Part of this living language, he said, would be expressions like "blather-slate," "spill the beans," "It is me" for "it is I," "I'd" for "I would," "all to the good," or "go to it."

"What we need to teach," the professor declared, "is a horse sense language. Most of the old instruction in grammar was all wet and a waste of time."

Tragedy On Great Lakes

Earlier Calling Of Sleeping Captain Might Have Prevented Disaster

Earlier calling of the sleeping captain might have prevented sinking of the S.S. Sand Merchant which sank in Lake Erie last October 17 with loss of 11 lives. The vessel was enclosed in findings by a commission which investigated the worst tragedy of the Great Lakes shipping season.

Responsible for the loss of life, in what Commissioner Mr. Justice Errol McDougall termed a "tragic and appalling disaster," was charged to First Officer Bernard Drinkwater of Port Stanley, Ont., and Second Officer Willard John Bourne of Victoria Harbor, Ont., who perished with Mrs. Drinkwater and 16 crew members. They failed, the commission found, in not being "sufficiently alert in obeying the master's orders to get the lifeboats out and the crew aboard."

A Common Language

Australian Senator Thinks This Would Insure World Peace

King Edward was formally requested by the Australian senate to convolve a world conference to study the possibility of adopting an international language as a means of assuring peace.

The resolution, adopted upon submission by Senator Macarthur Abbott, will be forwarded to London via the governor-general's office.

Senator Abbott said he had no particular language in mind when he drafted his motion. It would be up to the conference to decide whether English or Esperanto was advisable, or whether an entirely new language should be created; he said.

NOTHING BUT THEORIES
TO GIVE THE PEOPLE

When I came back last spring from the States and heard over the radio that the relief scrips were a success in Portland and the country, I said: What could be the idea in trying to deceive the Alberta citizens? Aherhart said the scrip looked fine or better than the Bank of Canada dollar bills. I agree that it looked nice on the upper side, but when you turned it over and looked on the other side it does not look so good. No bank has tried to charge such enormous interest as Alberta citizens are being charged for accepting Aherhart's scrip. If the scrip is so good, then why did not Aherhart and the other ministers and our legislators take part of the scrip in salaries each month, and prove by example that they had faith in their own certificates, instead of forcing them on the unemployed and civil servants?

We have such a rich province. We produce more than we can possibly consume. If Social Credit is only limited because of production, we have the land, machinery, stock, etc., to produce so every man and woman and child in Alberta can have plenty. There is nothing here to hinder our government, but it is up to the government to distribute. Money is the accepted form of purchasing power. There is no better form in existence at the present time. Mr. Aherhart's scrip is a failure. It cannot be proven that it has given Alberta greater purchasing power. The Alberta proposed dividends will go the same way. The proposed dividends rest on a foundation of confusion, conflicting theories, contradictory thoughts by its advocates that they cannot clear up and untangle among themselves. They have nothing yet but theories to give the people of Alberta or the world.

There has been a lot of harm done already in Alberta. More money will be taken out of the citizens' pocketbooks to fill the pockets of those who have plenty. The poor, the least able, will be the hardest hit.—Chas. A. Grant, Vulcan, Alta.

"WANTED" CO-OPERATION PLUS

(An Editorial)

"What is needed in Canada today," says Canadian Business for December in its feature editorial, "is, not a sharing of the wealth, but a sharing of enlightened understanding and responsibility."

"Progress has too often come as the result of the struggle of one economic group upholding or defending its particular cause against the divergent claim of another."

"Business, for instance, has opposed government; labor has opposed management; farmers have opposed administrators of an existing system. They have all been proponents for the confidence and favor of their patron public."

"But there are, and always have been, evidence of co-operation. Government this year took business into its confidence by enlisting business brains for its attack on unemployment; management maintains voluntary more employee benefits than ever before; industry knows that when agriculture flourishes, the country prospers; neither business nor government shun all economists as radical thinkers, for leaders in business and social research are not infrequently economists. And so these evidences grow."

"And well they may. Great Britain which has best weathered the storm during the last few crucial years, has shown herself to be the most alert of all democracies to just such co-operative trends."

"Last month organized business in The Canadian Chamber of Commerce promised its wholehearted support to Canada's National Employment Commission in exploring our greatest need—more jobs. The occasion was the release by the Commission of an employers' questionnaire covering, in addition to employment data, certain phases of human relations that exist between capital and labor."

"Before organized business can cooperate in realizing the claims of labor for better social security and improved living conditions, it must be ascertained how widely such conditions as holidays with pay, adequate hours and wages, apprenticeships, and old age pension obtain now in industry. It must be found out which of these conditions are lacking. If changes are made, would they result ultimately in benefit or otherwise to workers? Lastly, in what industries are improved labor relations most needed, and should they be 'sold' by business to business or come through legislation. It is significant, therefore, that organized business welcomes the Commission's survey and is willing to recognize that a voluntary mobilization for greater social betterment of the worker, may prove to be necessary. When that necessity is determined, it remains for all our economic groups to co-operate in making the legitimate claims of labor operative."

"In fact, the Commission itself represents a new and wider co-operation. Its personnel, including representatives of capital, labor, agriculture and economists, are fighting together the unemployment ogre. A closer tieup of enlightened members of these four groups along other fronts also could do much to harmonize the many economic and social discords in Canada today."

"Unless we develop this co-operation in our economic life, we cannot make our present governmental and social institutions serve us as they should. Canadians have their problems to work out in their own way. They can do it by co-operation under the present economic order without resort to the politicalisms so prevalent in the world today, but so unfitted to the Canadian mode of living."

"Before another year's end catches up with us, disagreements that exist between the 'horizontal' classes of our people can and should be narrowed. Now that recovery is on the way, 1937 could be a advisably dedicated to a greater understanding and an effective appreciation of one another's economic problems."

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

The death occurred in the local hospital on Sunday of Guerino Marolin, aged 33. Mr. Marolin was ill only a few days when the end came rather suddenly. He had lived in Bellevue for a number of years and was a native of Italy. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife and one child, and a brother, V. Marolin, all of Bellevue; also several other relatives in the old country. The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Marolin and child and other relatives in their great loss.

great loss. The remains were laid to rest on Tuesday, A. E. Ferguson of the Crows' Nest Funeral Co., was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Shaw, of Calgary, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Hayson, returned to her home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Goodwin are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter on Saturday last, December 5.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dowson were weekend visitors to Calgary.

The court whist drive held in the L.O.O.F. hall on Thursday evening under the auspices of Ray of Hope Rebekah Lodge was quite well attended. The ladies' first prize was won by Mrs. J. Hill, the second by Mrs. Wm. McDonald; gents' first was won by Mr. L. Hutton, the second by Mrs. George Jordan, junior. After the serving of a dainty luncheon, an hour of tea-chating and a singing was enjoyed. The ladies wish to thank those who helped make the affair a success.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hallworth returned on Friday evening from Edmonton, where Mr. Hallworth has been under medical care.

Mr. Charles Emmerson, who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with influenza, is reported well on the road to recovery.

Julius Ovre, who has been in hospital at Macleod for the past several months, returned to his home over the week end, much improved in health and pleased to be back. We are glad to see him around, and hope for continued improvement in his health.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Meade left on Sunday for a three-months vacation to Honolulu.

M. Krieschuk, of Selkirk, Manitoba, arrived over the week end to coach the Mohawk hockey team.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Rhodes were weekend visitors to Calgary.

Mrs. R. S. Sutherland, who has been visiting friends in High River and Calgary for the past three weeks, returned home on Sunday.

Mrs. W. Beck is a Calgary visitor.

The dance held in the Catholic hall on Saturday night by the hockey club was fairly well attended.

"I see no reason why the King should not marry an American if he wishes," declared William Gallagher, British Communist M.P., "and I wish him good luck. People's private lives shouldn't be discussed anyway," he added, remarking that some British people in the "charmed circle" would no doubt be shocked by an American marriage.

Ray Renfrew, of Coaldale, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Henry Veer near Coaldale on the evening of November the 25th, appeared for preliminary hearing at Lethbridge on Tuesday and was remanded until December 16th (Wednesday next) for hearing. Ray Renfrew was arrested by Mounted Police officers near Blairmore following the accident.

Before the Panama canal was opened steamers bound from Britain to New Zealand travelled around Cape Horn, but the opening of that great canal established a short cut that reduced the voyage by six days. Now some of the cargo ships from and to New Zealand are going back to the old route because it is much cheaper than to pay the cost of the Panama canal tolls. The charge for a vessel of 9,000 tons is about $10,000, whereas the cost of an additional week's voyage around the Horn is only about $1,500.—Armchair Science.

MORE CHANGES MADE IN C. N. OPERATING STAFF

Winnipeg, Man., December 7.—Additional changes in the operating staff of the Western Region of the Canadian National Railways were announced by vice-president A. E. Warren, effective December 1st.

J. H. McKinnon, superintendent at Prince Albert, is transferred to be superintendent at Calgary, vice J. P. Johnson, transferred to North Bay, as general superintendent.

N. F. North, superintendent of transportation, Winnipeg, is transferred to be superintendent at Prince Albert.

J. W. Crane, assistant superintendent at Kamloops, B.C., is transferred to Winnipeg as superintendent of transportation, Manitoba district.

In addition to the above, two further changes are also announced:

J. P. Kirkpatrick, assistant superintendent at Sioux Lookout, is transferred to be assistant superintendent at Kamloops.

G. A. Glay, Winnipeg, is appointed assistant superintendent at Sioux Lookout.

J. H. McKinnon entered railway service in 1900 and occupied many positions until 1911, when he went to St. Paul as commercial agent. In 1917 he was appointed superintendent at Virginia, went later to Kamloops and returned to Virginia in 1931. In 1933 he was moved to Prince Albert as superintendent.

N. P. North entered Canadian National Railway service in 1912 and, after being located at various points in the United States and Eastern Canada; went to Hornepayne as superintendent in 1927. He was later superintendent at Port Arthur and, in 1931, was superintendent of transportation, Winnipeg.

J. W. Crane entered railway service in 1903 and has held operating posi-

What Life Insurance Means to the Women and Children of Canada

To thousands of Canadian families, Life Insurance means financial security against the uncertainties of the future.

To each family deprived of its breadwinner, Life Insurance means food, clothing, shelter and other necessities of life.

It means ready cash to meet pressing obligations during the difficult re-adjustment period.

It means money to pay the rent or meet mortgage payments.

It means funds for the education of children until they are old enough to support themselves.

It means rearing your family in self-respect, free from the humiliation of private charity or public relief.

It means contented retirement for the business woman when she is no longer able to work.

Every working day, Life Insurance disburses $500,000 to Canadian homes. Every day, it helps to keep homes together and families united.

No wonder that Canadian women appreciate the value of Life Insurance, and are grateful to their loved ones whose far-sighted thrift has made possible such vital financial security for themselves and their children.

Power On The Farm

No industry under the sun has greater, more numerous and more varied problems besetting it than has agriculture. Nowhere, perhaps, are these problems so difficult of solution than in Western Canada, because of the immense range of the country and wide variation in seasonal and soil conditions, and by no means least of these problems is the power question for the farm.

A few years ago the introduction and popularization of large scale power machinery for farm use on the prairies, gave rise to a highly controversial topic usually designated: "The Horse versus the Tractor." Many farmers aligned themselves in one of two camps, those who favored horses as the motive power on the farm and those who regarded the tractor as the one and only form of power worth while for field operations.

The controversy at times became tinged with bitterness and threatened to become an open feud. Cudgels—verbal ones, of course, were wielded with great vigor and even governments, university authorities and editors of farm papers were accused of truckling to the one side or the other.

For some years it looked as though the advocates of power machinery were in the ascendancy and it was even freely predicted that the time was not far off when the horse would be as extinct as the proverbial doornail, save perhaps for a few specimens that would be preserved in zoological gardens for the benefit of the curious and the love of history.

As far as the author is concerned he never paid much interest in the agricultural domain. The bitterness gradually disappeared and discussion assumed a more moderate complexion.

Reason, which appeared to be tottering on her throne whenever the issue was raised, re-assured her away, partly because, like most other things, it gradually dawned on the general consciousness that there were two ideas to the question and that neither one nor the other was wholly right or entirely wrong. Changing conditions also, which have a habit of occurring in a non-static world, revealed that what might be true under certain conditions at a given time is not appropriate under the same, or other conditions, at some other time. In agriculture, as in most other spheres there is no law of the Medes and Persians.

And at this juncture, it might not be inappropriate to remark that this is precisely the reason why farming is a hazardous enterprise and requires, in addition to a leavening of luck, a considerable amount of energy, ability and good judgment, to ensure a sporting chance of success.

But to "return to our mutts," it must be generally recognized to-day that both the horse and the tractor have their place in the agricultural scheme in the prairie provinces and both are likely to have a useful purpose to serve for many years to come.

This has recently been emphasized by A. E. Hardy, Professor of Agricultural Engineering of the University of Saskatchewan, acknowledged as one of the foremost authorities in the west on the subject, in a lecture to farmers.

Professor Hardy pointed out that under certain soil conditions results which are impossible with horses can be achieved by power driven machinery and vice versa. He also pointed out that in some sections of the country where soil and other conditions are different farmers would find it almost impossible to carry on with horses at the present time.

There are other considerations which must necessarily be a guide to the farmer in determining what type of power is best suited to his particular purposes and these include his own economic circumstances. There are individual farmers and even some sections of the country where a combination of the two forms of power may yield the best results.

Then, too, the aptitude of the individual farmer and the type of help he is able to secure is an important consideration. There are men who can get much better results from a team of horses than it would be possible for them to do with a tractor while, on the contrary, farmers with a mechanical turn of mind, under the same conditions, are able to achieve much more with a tractor than with horse power and with greater economy. Likewise, there are many farmers who could not get results with power machinery who are unable to find the time to do very little liking for livestock but can achieve wonders with power machinery.

So that the question of the type of power to use on the farm is one which can only be solved satisfactorily by the individual farmer, taking into consideration the class of soil and the nature of the topography of his land, the size of his holdings, his own economic circumstances and his own aptitude, predilections and prejudices as well as those of the nature of help available.

In this respect the problem is like that of many others which have been or are the subject of heated controversy. The answer does not lie in any dogmatic ruling but in the circumstances, operating conditions and aptitude of the individual.

It is said, that one can bite eight times as hard with real teeth as with false teeth.

Every six minutes there is an accident in the United States.

New Style Locomotive

Is Designed To Compete With The Diesel-Electrics

Borrowing an idea from Barney Oldfield's steam racing car of 1909, a new railroad steam locomotive, designed to compete with the Diesel-electrics running the new streamlined express trains, was announced at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

The new engine is steam-electric, named the "Steamotive." Its steam runs an electric turbine so electricity drives the wheels.

Oldfield's engine made quick, hot "flash" steam by exposing a big area of heating pipes to fire. The new steamotive does the same. It is a midget with giant steam power. It carries a quarter mile of steam pipes all in a space the size of two office desks.

This double-deck area encloses the entire steam and heating plant. An oil burner furnishes heat.

Two of these locomotives are now under construction. The armament and their supplier will be 2,500 each.

This rates the newest "baby" of steam power at its birth on a par with the best done so far in Diesel-electricity. It is still a long way under the most powerful of all engines, the steam coal mogules of 6,000 horsepower. It is under the 5,000 horsepower of electric locomotives which take their "juice" from wire or third rail.

But the engineering society's announcement states the midget, by being enlarged, can be made in feasible sizes of 10,000 horsepower per boiler.

Diesel-electrics at present run from 900 to 1,000 horsepower per unit and are small enough so as many as four units have been hooked together on one locomotive.

The "steamotive" engine's power comes mainly from the fact its steam is produced at pressures of 1,500 pounds a square inch. A little of this steam does the work of a lot of the lower pressure steam ordinarily used in locomotives.

The water is driven at high speed through the heating pipes in order to prevent the danger of explosions of the super-power steam.

Turkeys For British Market

Least Shipment Will Be From The Prairie Provinces

Present prospects are that approaching 1,000,000 pounds of turkeys will be exported from Canada to the British Isles in 1936 for Christmas, most of which will be from the three Prairie Provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The first shipment of Canadian turkeys to the British market for the Christmas trade was made in 1932, when well over 1,000,000 pounds of chilled and frozen birds found ready buyers because of their recognized flavor and quality. All of the turkeys exported from the Dominion are graded, packed and inspected according to Dominion Government standards before shipment.

Turkey raising has developed into quite a substantial industry in Canada in recent years. Of this year's export movement it is expected Manitoba will supply the largest percentage. The shipments for export will go forward both chilled and frozen.

While the principal development in turkey raising in the past few years has been in Western Canada, the industry has been making considerable progress in Eastern Canada, particularly in Ontario and Quebec, where artificial hatching and rearing is carried on much more extensively. Most of the production, however, comes from farmers engaged in mixed farming who raise comparatively small flocks.

Foreign Capital In U.S.

Survey Indicates Foreign Holdings To Be Approximately Seven Billion Dollars

Publishing for the first time the details of foreign capital movements about which President Roosevelt recently expressed concern, the United States treasury disclosed a $2,281,659,000 net inflow of funds from abroad between Jan. 1, 1935, and last Sept. 30.

This influx, representing the excess of funds coming into the country over those going out, came chiefly from Great Britain, Switzerland, France, the Netherlands and Canada. Corresponding commerce department reports on capital movements, the treasury survey indicated foreign holdings in this country approximated $7,000,000,000—believed the highest in history—on Sept. 30.

"There goes a fellow who chased around for years, trying to land a political job."

Bill Voted Down

House Of Lords Rejects Measure To Permit Medical Men To Kill Incurable Patients

The house of lords voted down proposed legislation to permit medical men to kill patients suffering from agonizing incurable ailments.

Under the weight of opposition from such persons as Lord Dawson of Penn, the King's physician, and the Archbishop of Canterbury, the proposal was rejected by a vote of 35 to 14.

Despite present defeat, the bill's sponsor, Lord Ponsonby, predicted eventual passage of a revised measure to permit "euthanasia" (easy death).

"I am certain," he said, "that the time will come when parliament will have to regulate the matter and I am certain that a measure of this kind will be accepted some day."

"I am afraid the alliance between prelates of the Church of England and doctors will defeat me, but I think it is not the first time the priesthood and medical men have worked together."

The Archbishop of Canterbury said "I cannot but think it is better to leave this difficult and delicate matter in the hands of the medical profession rather than to drag it into the open and regulate it by legal procedure."

"In this matter I would trust the judgment and honor of the medical profession."

Viccount Fitzalan, a Roman Catholic, said "People of all creeds have as a whole accepted the tradition of the Almighty reserves to Himself the power to determine the moment when life shall become extinct."

Seats For Coronation

Large Number Of Applications For Seats To View The Procession

A large number of applications for seats from which to view the coronation procession in London next May have been received by Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian high commissioner, and it has been decided to close the subscription list for seats at the high commissioner's disposal on Jan. 1.

Announcement to this effect was made from the office of the prime minister.

Stands are being erected along the procession route by the United Kingdom government and certain sections have been allotted at cost to high commissioners of the various dominions. As it is expected the demand may exceed the supply it has been decided all applications for accommodations at the disposal of the Canadian high commissioner must be made before the end of the year.

It was further announced applications for these seats must be made individually and that none will be considered if made through an agency, institution, booking office or business firm.

Canadians wishing to obtain reservations in the sections allocated to the Canadian high commissioner will apply direct to his secretary at Canadian House in London.

Just An Imaginary Line

International Boundary Means Nothing To Canadian Beaver

The Canadian-American boundary at International Falls, Minnesota, is just an imaginary line to a band of beavers—so customs officials are forced to separate their "unpleasant enemy" in the United States.

The Canadian beavers live on Rainy River island but selected the American shore for wood and food supplies. American property owners, complaining about the damage, asked that the beasts be "deported."

"Deportation" must wait until spring, however, because the state game and fish department ruled the fur-bearers inviolate during their winter slumber.

Passenger And Mail Service To Be In Operation In Near Future

The Canadian passenger and air mail service will be in operation by 1936 or 1939 at the latest, Transport Minister Howe told members of a Montreal service club.

This service will be linked with trans-North Atlantic service which the minister said is expected to be completed in two years.

He said the Dominion government had made extensive preparations for this service. Landing fields have been established between Montreal and Vancouver at distances 50 miles apart. These fields will be ready for traffic next summer, he said.

The government plans to furnish landing fields, radio beacons and weather reports. "We will look to private interests to do the actual flying," he added.

Under recent agreements between Canada, Great Britain and Ireland, trans-Atlantic flights on the north

Atlantic route will be made next summer, the minister said. "Canada's job will be to pick up passengers and air-mail at the eastern end, locate and fly them to Vancouver."

When aviation has been developed in Canada a trip from Montreal to Vancouver will take one night and part of a day, instead of three days and four nights as required at present."

The minister said he did not believe the development of aviation would affect the railways. "Instead I believe it will help them," he asserted. "It will render people more travel conscious. We have not by any means created all the transportation which we are capable of creating in Canada."

PLAN FOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS IS WELL UNDER WAY

Ottawa.—The home improvement plan not only affords an opportunity to borrow money at the lowest rate for instalment loans in the world but provides home owners with an attractive means of attacking unemployment, members of the cabinet and members of the national unemployment commission told a meeting here.

The meeting, called to choose a local loan committee, was addressed by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice; Hon. Charles Dunning, minister of finance; Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of health; Arthur B. Purvis, Montreal, chairman of the committee; and Prof. W. A. Mackintosh, Kingston, commission member.

Despite winter conditions and the fact details of the plan are not widely familiar, said Mr. Dunning, the banks have reported that in the first two weeks of operation—the first two weeks of November—865 loans have been made with an aggregate value of more than $325,000.

Outstanding men have been chosen as chairmen of provincial committees, Mr. Purvis said. A chairman for Ontario would be chosen in a few days, he stated.

The plan is not merely a plan for lending or borrowing money, declared Mr. Purvis. "It is most emphatically and primarily a plan for inspiring home owners to repair, improve and brighten their homes and thus give work to the end that unemployment is reduced. If the home owner can do it out of his own savings so much the better. If he cannot, the home improvement plan opens the way for him to get the money. The important thing, however, is for the work to go on."

The plan provides Canadian citizens with an obligation as well as an opportunity, said Mr. Rogers.

"Our opportunity as home owners is matched by our obligations as citizens. In every city, town and village of Canada there are men of relief or unemployed who are able and anxious to use their idle hands in the improvement of our homes. These men are our neighbors and our countrymen. Many of them are skilled mechanics.

"Their craftsmanship and experience are a national asset which must not be wasted," Mr. Rogers emphasized. "Most of them have families dependent on them. Many of them have had no work for the entire period of depression."

An opportunity was owed these unemployed workers in the building trades to re-establish themselves in their chosen calling.

Explaining financial details of the plan, Mr. Dunning said a home owner wishing to carry out improvements on his property may borrow money from his bank at a discount rate of 3½ per cent. for a loan repayable within a year in monthly instalments. This works out at an interest rate of 6.32 per cent. It was merely necessary for the property owner to show he is the kind of person who pays his debts and has enough income to meet the instalments.

"In other words," said Mr. Dunning, "these loans are intended to be based on character and income, and not on collateral security."

The rate was almost 40 per cent. below that charged on home repair loans in the United States. "Indeed I believe that this charge represents the lowest cost instalment loan plan that is available anywhere in any country in the world."

It was doubtful if the lending institutions would make any money out of the plan.

Tree Planting Program

Manitoba Suggestion To Give Employment To Veterans

Winnipeg.—A tree-planting program to give employment to war veterans was suggested to the veterans' assistance commission in session here by Frank Sewell, Neepawa, man on behalf of the Manitoba command, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

Mr. Sewell said Neepawa and the rural municipalities of Rosedale, Langford and Lansdowne each were prepared to donate 160 acres of land for experiment tree planting if the Dominion government would finance the work.

Planting of pine trees along main highways was recommended as a tourist attraction and an aid as windbreaks and in soil moisture conservation.

Work For Unemployed

Project To Be Carried Out On Peace River Highway

Edmonton.—Agreement has been reached between the Dominion and provincial governments for the putting to work of 3,500 unemployed men on three projects. Wires containing the Dominion's agreement to participate in the scheme were received by Hon. Dr. W. W. Purvis, minister of health and in charge of social welfare.

The projects on which work will be carried out will be the Peace River highway, Jasper highway and the Nordegg connection of the Jasper-Banff highway.

The work will commence immediately and will continue until March 31 next. Men will be paid 30 cents an hour.

Modern Roman Road

Project Two-Way Concrete Highway Between Berlin And Rome

Berlin.—A projected two-way concrete highway between Berlin and Rome, creating a strategic connection between two of Europe's fascist nations, was disclosed as the subject of lengthy discussions among Chancellor Hitler, Dr. Fritz Todt, general inspector of highways construction, and Senator Piero Tuccelli, Italian road builder.

The project would link the Baltic and the Mediterranean by a modern highway which informed sources regarded as the first practical follow-up of the German-Italian alliance.

Britain Stands United

Nation Is Prepared For Any Acts Of Aggression

London.—Arthur Greenwood, deputy Labor leader in the House of Commons, said in a speech here the country stands united against aggression.

No foreign nation thinks that if peace is assured that country is going to split from top to bottom, he said.

"We are prepared without qualification to supply the country with all the arms necessary to fulfil undertakings given to other nations to preserve the peace of the world. There is no doubt of this in the minds of 99 per cent. of the people."

Praise For Canadian Press

News Broadcast System Satisfactory Says Gladstone Murray

Sydney, N.S.—Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said in an interview here the present system of news broadcast supplied by The Canadian Press was "highly satisfactory."

Development in this particular field will follow when the situation warrants, Mr. Murray agreed.

"I am a great believer in co-operation with the newspapers," he said. "A great deal of public good can be accomplished by the co-operation of these two factors, radio and the press."

Armament Orders

Britain Places Large Order In One Of The Dominions

London.—Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for defence co-ordination, told the House of Commons at question time that armaments orders amounting to £400,000 had recently been placed in one of the dominions. He did not specify which one.

The orders included parts of certain scientific instruments and shell bodies. They were placed in order to maintain supplies until the requisite output was available in Great Britain.

Concerning rearmament progress, Sir Thomas said the supply of munitions was generally proceeding according to estimate.

Ban On Volunteers

Britain Anxious About Reports Of Recruits For Spain

London.—Disturbed by the threatening international scene, the British government made two diplomatic moves.

A note was presented by the foreign office to the German embassy, expressing British regret that Germany by unilateral action had denounced the waterways clauses of the Versailles treaty.

France and Czechoslovakia also despatched notes to the Wilhelmstrasse, expressing regret at the German denunciation of the waterway clauses.

Before the International Handicrafts Committee, the Earl of Plymouth, parliamentary under-secretary for foreign affairs, took the first step towards a ban on volunteers for Spain.

Lord Plymouth expressed the anxiety of the British government regarding reports of the arrival in increasing numbers of foreign volunteers in Spain. He asked the chairman's sub-committee to consider the question.

European tension over the Spanish situation, meanwhile, was lessened by an announcement from the German embassy in London the Reich had no intention of denouncing the non-intervention agreement or sending troops to Spain.

The committee further agreed to the immediate despatch to the two parties in Spain of a plan for supervision of the importation of arms and other war materials into Spain at the principal points of entry by land and sea.

Fails To Beat Record

Mollison Loses Way On Last Lap Of Speed Flight

Cape Town, South Africa.—Capt. James A. Mollison lost his way on the last lap of a speed flight from London to Cape Town and failed to break the record set earlier this year by his estranged wife, Amy Johnson.

Mollison and his co-pilot, Edward Cornillon-Mollison, took off Dec. 2 from Kimberley, hoping to conclude quickly their speedy 6,000-mile dash but failure to arrive by 3:57 p.m. cost them their chance to better the mark of three days, four hours, 29 minutes Amy Johnson set.

FRANCE INTENDS TO LAUNCH HUGE NAVAL PROGRAM

Paris.—France has announced plans for a huge naval building program as an answer to increased warship construction by Germany and Italy.

The minister of marine outlined his program to the chamber navy committee and said "it responds to increased power of the German and Italian fleets."

He informed the committee he would ask parliament to make funds available specifically as soon as the expert naval council completes its study of the plan.

The construction plan calls for five 35,000-ton battleships and ten 10,000-ton brisiers by 1945 at an estimated cost of $572,000,000.

The navy minister recommended addition of 4,000 men to the fleet immediately.

At the same time Air Minister Pierre Cot told the chamber finance committee 1,500 new planes will be built in 1937 instead of the 1,085 planes previously contemplated.

HELEN KELLER AIDS BRITISH CHARITY

Miss Helen Keller, famous American author and poet, who is blind and deaf, is shown above writing a letter on a Braille machine while helping the campaign for the Sunshine Home for Blind Babies in London, England. On each side of the famous authoress are the favorite dolls of Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose.

Winners At Chicago Show

Indiana Farmer Crowned 1936 Corn King Of World

Chicago.—William H. Curry, 16-year-old, Tipton county, Indiana, farmer, was crowned 1936 corn king of the world.

Judges at the International Livestock and Grain Shows declared Curry's 10 ears of Reid Yellow Dent the best at the exposition. His perfectly matched ears measured 10½ inches in length and 7½ inches in circumference.

From some 7,000 head of cattle, Walter Biggar who for 12 years has come from Scotland to judge the animals, named G. Page, an Aberdeen-Angus from the Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater, Okla., the grand champion 1936 steer.

The black steer, 18 months old, weighed 995 pounds, and is destined for the auction block and slaughter.

Alexander MacLaren of Buckingham, Que., showed the prize milking Shorthorn, James Turner of Cadboro Bay, B.C., exhibited the winning Shorthorn steer in the 875-1,000-pound class.

Edwards Brothers of Watford, Ont., had the winning pair of Aberdeen-Angus bulls and the first place Aberdeen-Angus heifer calved between January 1 and April 30, 1936.

MUST BUY MORE IN ORDER TO SELL CANADIAN WHEAT

Winnipeg.—Canada must buy more merchandise from wheat importing countries if she wants to sell her surplus wheat, declared C. D. Davidson, secretary of the Canadian wheat board, in evidence before the Turgeon royal grain commission.

"From the standpoint of the wheat situation," he said, "continental Europe must be brought into the main stream of international trade." He advised that Canada review her trade relations with wheat importing countries, particularly continental European countries.

Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon of Regina, Saskatchewan, presiding, directed him to investigate the grain trade in all its phases, heard Mr. Davidson review Canada's place in world wheat markets and point to reasons for decline in Canadian grain exports.

Mr. Davidson reviewed the distribution of Canadian wheat exports with a comparison of the five-year period 1925-26 to 1929-30 with the five-year period 1930-31 to 1934-35.

Continental Europe in the first five-year period took an annual average of 155,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat. This average declined 51,700,000 bushels to an average of 103,300,000 bushels in the later five-year period, he said.

The United Kingdom for the first five-year period bought an annual average of 82,600,000 bushels from the Dominion and this dropped to 80,600,000 bushels to an annual average of 71,600,000 for the second five-year period.

International agreements would be sought to assure passage of the service over foreign territory, Cot said.

He pointed out that experts now are studying a winter route via the Azores and a summer route via St. Pierre and Miquelon, off Newfoundland. Seaplane bases may be established at the call stops, the minister indicated.

POISON GAS SAID TO BE USED IN THE SPANISH WAR

Madrid.—The horror of poison gas has been added to Spain's civil war, medical experts disclosed.

Dr. Hans Fraenkel, physician attached to the government international brigade, and Commissary Chiefs Stern and Regel of the 11th and 12th militia brigades, gave testimony as to the gassing of 10 government soldiers, among them a Belgian veteran of the Great War who had been gassed twice on the western front.

The gas attack was launched by the insurgents in the attempt to advance into Madrid via University City, it was alleged.

The medical men and eye-witnesses said the militia who were gassed had the familiar symptoms of asphyxiation, painful swelling of the eyes and the mucous membrane of the nose. They said the faces of the stricken men turned a greenish color. Their bodies became covered with cold sweat.

"We believe, but cannot be absolutely certain yet, that the gas is of the type known as green cross gas," Dr. Fraenkel said.

It was announced the former German Communist deputy, Hans Beimler, heading the "Thaelmann brigade" on the University City front, was killed. He will be buried in the Kremlin at Moscow, it was reported.

London.—Great Britain received official notification from General Francisco Franco, Spanish Fascist leader, that his planes "frequently bomb both day and night on presumed British ships" from north of Alicante to west of Malaga.

Officials said they presumed the neutral shipping zones at Alicante and Cartagena were excluded.

Atlantic Air Service

France Would Establish Service With U.S. Early Next Year

Paris.—A French trans-Atlantic air service may be transporting mail to and from the United States as early as next year, Air Minister Pierre Cot told the aviation affairs committee of the chamber of deputies.

He estimated it would cost about $600,000 francs (approximately $270,000) yearly to operate the line, and said a joint company was being envisaged composed of Air-France, the French Line (Compagnie Generale Transatlantique) and the state, which would own the majority of stock.

International agreements would be sought to assure passage of the service over foreign territory, Cot said. He pointed out that experts now are studying a winter route via the Azores and a summer route via St. Pierre and Miquelon, off Newfoundland. Seaplane bases may be established at the call stops, the minister indicated.

Prepare For Trouble

Says South Africa Should Put Her House In Order

Standerton, Transvaal, South Africa.—Gen. J. C. Smuts, minister of justice, in a speech here declared he did not think there would be war "tomorrow or the next day" but it was evident the masters must put their house in order.

"The big dogs are only barking and don't like to fight one another," the statesman said. "Now and then they will tackle small nations, as they did with Abyssinia, and swallow them up. So South Africa must put her house in order."

South Africa must rely on "her powerful friend, Britain, to defend her shores, but she herself must undertake land and air defences to repulse any invader or air raider," Gen. Smuts added.

Oswald Pistor, minister of defence, is "busy putting the commando system on a healthy footing with machine guns and aeroplanes," he continued.

Russian Ships Searched

Odessa, U.S.S.R.—The Black Sea Steamship Company was informed the Russian embassy in Rome has protested to the Italian government against the alleged searching of four of its vessels which recently touched at Italian ports.

Receives Appointment

Ottawa—Appointment of Major D. M. MacKay, member of the British Columbia legislature for Cariboo, as resident commissioner of Indian affairs for that province, was announced by Hon. T. A. Carter, minister of mines and resources.
